AMEND MOTOR BUS LAW— LYNCH REPORTS SATISFAC- TORY TEST OF NEW WELLS

The regular meeting of the board of trustees of the city of Glendale was held in the city hall Monday evening, March 20, 1916. Present, O. A. Lane, president of the board, and Trustees Chas. Grist, J. S. Thomson, A. W. Tower, Geo. Williams. Also present, J. C. Sherer, city clerk; T. W. Watson, city manager; W. E. Evans, city attorney; H. B. Lynch, manager Public Service department; A. H. Lankford, chief of fire department.

A communication was read from Smith, Walker & Middleworth in regard to a communication sent to that firm by the building inspector in reference to the installation of an electric sign, the communication objecting to the tenor of the same. On motion of Trustee Tower, the communication was ordered to be filed and the reply of the same to be made by the city clerk.

Mr. A. F. Wilson filed an application for a permit to operate auto bus service on a regular route and schedule between Glendale and Pasadena. As the applicant was unable at the present time to state what his schedule would be, on motion of Trustee Thompson, a temporary permit was granted for thirty days.

The city manager presented an ordinance regulating the length of time motor busses should be allowed to stand in certain places upon the streets. On motion an ordinance amending Ordinance No. 276, entitled, "On ordinance of the city of Glendale requiring license certificates for the regulation and operating of motor busses," by adding Section 4½ thereto, was taken up for first and second reading and was laid over till the next regular meeting for the third and final reading.

The city manager reported to the board the payment by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company of $880.97, being 2 per cent on the gross receipts of the company during the past year and according to the terms of the franchise.

On motion of Trustee Tower, the matter of franchise for the Home Telephone company was referred to the city attorney for investigation and report. The city attorney was also requested to investigate and report as to why the Southern California Gas company has not paid to the city two per cent on its gross receipts as agreed to in its franchise.

The city manager reported that he had seen the officials of the Pacific Electric Railway company in regard to the lowering of their tracks on Brand boulevard at the crossings of First and Doran street, and that they had informed him that orders had been issued to do that work. The company is at the present time putting in the culverts at those crossings.

The city manager also reported that County Engineer Reagan wishes to advise the trustees as to the point on the wash where the One Hundred Thousand Dollars of the proposed bond issue shall be expended if the bonds are approved. On motion of Trustee Tower, the city manager and city engineer were requested to confer with Mr. Reagan, and also the people of Tropic in regard to the matter.

On motion of Trustee Thompson a proxy was ordered to be issued to Mr. H. B. Lynch, authorizing him to vote and represent the shares of the city at the stockholders' meeting of the Verdugo Canyon Water company, on April 4th.

The manager of the Public Utilities department reported the very satisfactory result of the test of the new well on the company's property on San Fernando road on Saturday last. The result showed a flow of 225 inches, indicating a total supply of the three wells of between five hundred and six hundred inches of water.

Trustee Thompson reported on the dangerous condition of Third street between Central avenue and Orange street, and also called attention to the condition of the streets at the corner of Colorado street and Central avenue.

IRELAND HITS HARD

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL MISSION AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

In spite of the weather there was a fine audience present at the First Methodist church last night to hear Evangelist Ireland. Mr. Ireland was in fine trim. He was in the mood for a straight talk to professing Christians, and he delivered his message without sidestepping or dodging, and yet at the same time did it in such a frank, sympathetic manner that instead of taking offense men would thank him. His theme was "Trail Blazing or Are You in the Brush?"

The evangelist said that men and women were Christians not for themselves alone but for the other fellow. Christianity meant service. The Christian must be a savior, and he could not be this while his life was filled with the same spirit as dominated the life of the non-Christian. In a searching way Ireland made his hearers consider the moods and motives of their lives.

"Without gloves" he dealt with the "meanings of the Christian." Leaving the outbreathing sins, which decent people despise, he probed deep into the faults of religious people, and showed how these things turn men from God. Some of the evangelist's sallies of wit were barbed and carried a sting; but the smile and evident kindness and sincerity of the man made his hearers conscious of the fact that the shaft went home. Unless the congregation is willing to put on an old coat, a hat or a pair of shoes that fit it will find Ireland's messages puritanical. He is not an acrobat in the pulpit; but a man with a message and he gives it.

The singing was led by a large, enthusiastic chorus. Mrs. Cammack was heard in an effectively rendered solo, "For You and Me." Music will be a large feature of the mission with special selections each evening.

RUN DOWN BY AUTO

Mrs. Fulkman, 740 S. Verdugo road, made complaint to the Glendale police Monday morning that her husband was run over, Sunday at 3 p. m., on Central avenue near Seventh street, by an auto driven by a woman. This woman, Mrs. Fulkman stated, was accompanied by another woman. They refused to give their names. Mr. Fulkman, who was riding a bicycle at the time of the accident, was very badly bruised but fortunately none of his bones were broken.

The accident was witnessed by B. M. Carlton, 735 S. Hope street, Los Angeles, and by Charles Muskowitz, 1657 Vine street. The number of the Ford was noticed to be 152877 and this is the register number of Roy W. Barton, R. F. D. No. 2, Box 30, San Luis Obispo.

DEATH OF J. H. SHUGART

Jacob H. Shugart, for the past three years a resident of Glendale, passed from this life at his home, 224 Belmont street, Sunday evening, March 19, after a long illness, at the age of 76 years.

Mr. Shugart was born in Pennsylvania February 29, 1840 and on February 29 of this year celebrated his 19th birthday. Although confined to his bed he was visited by a number of friends and received many messages of congratulation on that day which afforded him much pleasure.

Mr. Shugart served his country during the Civil War and numbers countless friends among the old soldiers here as well as at Shenandoah, Iowa, and Omaha, Neb., where he formerly resided. He lived for twenty years in Shenandoah, later going to Omaha, where he was employed in the federal building. Three years ago he decided to give up active work and come to California in the hope of benefitting his health. For a time his health improved and he enjoyed the advantages of a residence in this climate to the full. Some months ago he began to fail, and his death was not unexpected.

The deceased leaves to mourn the death of a devoted husband and loving father, a widow, two sons and one daughter.

Mr. Shugart was connected with the Masonic order for more than forty years and he will be buried with full Masonic orders, the brethren officiating at the grave. Rev. W. E. Edmonds will conduct the services at the Jewel City Undertaking parlors, Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in Forest Lawn cemetery.

LIBRARY NEWS NOTES

NEW HISTORICAL BOOKS— WORKS ON MUSIC—WORK- ING WITH SOCIETIES

Mrs. Danford, the librarian of the public library, has made an excellent selection of juvenile historical books in the Abbott series. This is a carefully prepared series of works taking in all periods of the world's history and telling the story of different ages in the form very much as that employed in Miss Muhlbach's historical novels. The books are a great attraction to young people and by their means they may easily acquire a large body of historical knowledge.

No novelist has done more to stimulate the human mind to great invention than Jules Verne. In his "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea" he gave the world the first practical sketch of a submarine. That book was written more than 50 years ago; yet his undersea boat, the "Nautilus" was described as embodying all the latest improvements in submarine engineering. In similar manner he gave the first hint of the automobile and of the aeroplane as well as of other modern inventions such as the military armored car. His books have always been favorites with boys for whom they constitute the very best of healthy and interesting reading. A complete new set of these interesting volumes has been added to the library this week.

There is gradually being built up in the library a music section. Just at present it is not possible to add the music itself; but the librarian aims at gathering together a collection of books on the history and theory of music that will prove highly valuable to all music students. The latest book of this kind just received contains treatises on the technique of music, biographies of great musicians, a treatise on vocal music and on all musical instruments.

The sending out of the library bulletins to the various Parent-Teacher associations has been productive of much benefit. The various associations have willingly and even enthusiastically co-operated with the librarian in seeing that the bulletins were properly distributed and that the members of the various associations were put in touch with the literature that might prove helpful to them.

The librarian is working hard to get all public organizations in the city to understand that by co-operating with the library they can do much to advance the particular lines of work in which they are engaged. In this way much has been done to aid the work of the W. C. T. U. In similar manner a great deal of literature dealing with the revival of Irish literature has been brought in to the library and interest stimulated in the works of Celtic authors.

While all this has been done for societies the library does not forget the individual and individual interests are studied and individual studies aided. There still continues a marked interest in all mechanical arts and the books dealing with engineering and technical subjects of all kinds are in demand. In every way the public is coming to take an intelligent interest in the library and learning the proper use of the material it contains.

CLIMB MT. WILSON

Starting from Glendale Friday evening a party of young people made the ascent of Mt. Wilson and had a very enjoyable time. They reached the lower end of the trail at 12 midnight and after a strenuous climb arrived at the summit 5:30 a. m., Saturday. They spent a pleasant time wandering until 1 p. m., at which time the descent was begun. The party got back to the foot of the trail at 5:30 and thence returned home in autos. Those in the party were: Ellen Wall, Maybell Newcomb, Catherine Green, May Church, A. R. Oliver, Eldred Marlatt, Kenneth Beldin, Chase Story and Glen Oliver.

In connection with the First Methodist church Revival Mission home prayer meetings are being held daily from 2:30 to 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Goss, 708 W. 5th St.; Mrs. R. L. Lacy, 135 S. Kenwood.

CITY GETS PUBLICITY

TREE PLANTING IN GLENDAL ATTRACTS NOTICE OF LEAGUE OF MUNICIPALITIES

Not long ago T. W. Watson, city manager of Glendale, received a request from W. J. Locke, on behalf of the League of California Municipalities, asking him to furnish an article on the subject of tree planting and also the cuts that accompanied the article on Forestry in the last annual report of the city. The League is also anxious to obtain information regarding the working of vacant lot weed law.

Mr. Watson has furnished the League, for publication, with a carefully prepared article on tree planting in the city and also a word or two on lot cleaning. He says that in every mile of streets there should be reserved an acre or more of parking. In Glendale the parkings contain more than fifty acres. The fact that these parkings are at our doors makes it desirable that they should be kept clean and beautiful. With well-kept lawns and shade trees they are a great civic asset as well as a comfort and pleasure to pedestrians.

Mr. Watson points to the provisions of the "Tree Planting Acts" which make it possible for the residents of a district to work out a uniform plan of tree planting for their district. The acts of 1913 and 1915 make it possible to have the gaps in tree planting at vacant lots filled up.

Each city, says Mr. Watson, should have a Forester, whose duty it should be to care for the trees along the streets and boulevards and to advise and encourage people in planting of trees. Glendale has made a small beginning toward municipal tree planting or regulation. Along the street parkings is ample room for city beautification. In 1913 592 trees were set out and cared for on Verdugo road and Colorado street, at a cost of $1.25 per tree, including one season's care.

This tree planting consisted of 274 Catalina Cherry trees, 84 Camphor trees, 32 Acacia Mollissima and 202 California Live Oaks. There are now growing in the parkings of the city 8954 trees of 58 varieties. The Black Acacia predominates. Pepper trees come second and Camphor trees last.

Mr. Marek, who has been acting as forester during the past two seasons, has done the work of tree trimming in a most efficient and satisfactory manner. Only six complaints have come to the manager's office regarding tree trimming during that time. This tree planting is a good investment.

As to lot cleaning Mr. Watson says notices to remove weeds were posted on 2369 lots. One thousand and nine of these were taken care of by the owners. This left 1360 lots from which the weeds were removed by the city at an average cost of $1.23. The people co-operated splendidly in this work and paid the cost at the time they paid their city taxes. The owners are more willing to let their lots be used for growing crops of various kinds on condition that the lots be kept clean of weeds during the season. Mr. Watson concludes that municipal tree planting and lot cleaning will soon be generally accepted as permanent functions of city government.

JEWS THANK GLENDAL

Acknowledging receipt of the first draft of $300 from Glendale for the relief of the destitute Jews of Europe Mr. Stanley Bero, of the Central Relief committee, takes occasion to thank the people of Glendale for their liberality. He gives credit to Mr. Sam H. Goldstein, secretary of the local relief committee, for his activity in the matter and says that the graphic account of the doings in Glendale sent by that official will be given due publicity as an example to other communities.

AUTOS FOR MAIL ROUTES

By putting into service properly equipped automobiles the Los Angeles post office department expects to improve the rural mail delivery and at the same time lessen the expense and extend the length of the routes. Four motor vehicle routes will take the place of the present six rural routes. The service will be greatly improved and daily delivery made to ranchers who have hitherto not had the benefit of the mail service.

Route D will begin at Glendale postoffice. It will be 56.72 miles in length. Routes 11 and 13 will be abandoned. The carrier will supply mail to persons residing in the La Canada and Sunland districts and will cover the more important roads north of the Verdugo hills.

THE DEFENSE OF VERDUN

During the past month the eyes of the world have been turned on that sector of defense in the French frontier line that lies around the fort of Verdun. There the Germans have massed an enormous army under their dashing crown prince and have launched attack after attack on the French lines. The fort of Verdun itself is a negligible quantity in this fighting. It is one of the ancient defenses as old as Metz itself and completely out of date when measured by the power of the German and Austrian heavy mortars.

When Gen. Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French armies in the field, undertook the gigantic task of remodeling and remoulding the French armies in the very face of the enemy he knew that the first essential of success was to have able lieutenants. He began by making a clearance of all the non-progressive material with which he was hampered and brought to the front young men whom he had himself observed in action. This was done gradually at first but after Mons and the Marne he got rid of a vast number of incompetents. Men whose initiative, courage and originality had been made conspicuous in the hour of trial were promoted to positions of authority and responsibility. Among these was General Philippe Petain, the defender of Verdun. Petain was a mere boy about to enter the military school of St. Cyr, at the time of the Franco-Prussian war. He joined the infantry and fought through the war, being then 16 years of age. In the years that have elapsed Petain has become a skilled tactician and strategist and was a colonel at the opening of the present war.

Joffre intrusted him with the defense of Verdun. Remembering what happened to Liege, Namur, Novo-Georgievsk and Brest-Litvsk Petain concluded that no fortress was strong enough to resist the German 17-inch mortars. He therefore dismantled the fort proper, and garrisoned it with a mere handful of men, devoting his attention to the surrounding terrain and heights. These he fortified in a most wonderful manner, rendering them immensely strong; driving underground galleries along all the faces of the heights; filling the ravines with barbed wire entanglements, criss-crossing the woods with similar wire defenses; constructing a thousand pitfalls and cul-de-sacs where hostile infantry might enter but could never emerge. The Lorraine heights dominate the Woivre plain and time and again the Germans advancing in massed columns across that open space have been annihilated. At the same time they have met with an equally fierce resistance at Les Eparges as the French seventy-fives and machine guns overshadowed them with their curtain of fire.

After four weeks Petain still holds the field. He lives in an armored car and is here, there and everywhere, dashing from point to point, taking a thousand risks of death, but escaping up to this point and showing himself one of the strong men of the French army. Behind the defenses at Verdun are miles and miles of similar defenses and even the strongest attacking army might easily fret itself to pieces against them without result.

JAPAN'S FINANCES FLOURISHING

Japan is in a much better condition financially at the present moment than she has been at any time since the war with Russia. Naturally that war, at the conclusion of which she was prevented from collecting any indemnity, left her in a critical condition financially. However, since the present war broke out in Europe Japan has flourished and increased and her budget for this year shows that the total revenue is $156,000,000. The excess of revenue amounts to $78,000,000. There is, however, a slight decrease in the customs duties which is due to the present stoppage of interoceanic trade. On the other hand the receipts from public undertakings and state property are increased by $2,249,000.

The Japanese government is taking precautions to curtail expenditure. The economic conditions in 1915, though still feeling the influence of the war, are gradually on the way to being ameliorated. In some industries, as in the United States, there has been an enormous increase in business. Shipbuilding, the manufacture of munitions of war, have built up large fortunes for many individuals and have enriched the country at large by the circulation of money paid out for wages. The silk industry also has experienced a great revival and has answered at once to the cheerful tone of the American market.

The gross total of imports and exports shows an increase of $16,000,000. The imports decreased $32,500,000 and the exports increased $97,000,000. As a result of the favorable trade balance Japan is in a position to command a considerable quantity of gold. It is the avowed intention of the Japanese government to strengthen the gold reserve of the country and thus put its financial standing on a solid basis. At the same time a considerable portion of the outstanding debt of the country will be reduced.

In all these circumstances can be seen the fact that the war in Europe has been a blessing in disguise to Japan. It has stimulated a revival of business and has saved Japan from a long and difficult financial struggle. At the same time the war has advanced the interests of Japan in the Far East and under wise statesmanship that country should so strengthen its influence in China as to become the trade and military adviser of that nation.

COLUMBUS AVENUE P. T. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher association will be held at the school Thursday at 3 p. m. It is "Kindergarten Day" and the program has been arranged under the direction of Mrs. John Robert White, chairman of Kindergarten committee. Miss Johnson will demonstrate some of her kindergarten games, using twenty little folks who have been in her class. Mrs. A. R. Chappelle will sing and Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan will give a reading.

Miss Grace Fullmer of Los Angles is to speak on "The Value of Kindergartens" and as she has made child study her life work she is worth hearing, even by a mother who might not be interested in kindergartens. Miss Fullmer is assistant superintendent of schools under Mr. Francis, and supervisor of kindergartens in Los Angeles. Refreshments will be served by a group of kindergarten mothers.

One New Year's resolution is not forgotten and that is the resolve to make more money in 1916 than in 1915.

MONDAY NIGHT BIBLE CLASS

Despite the threatening weather the attendance at the Monday Night Bible class was good, Rev. W. E. Edmonds leader. The keywords of the "blessed hope" are Watch, Wait, Work and Pray. The key thought is joy in the coming of our Lord; there is uncertainty as to time, but no uncertainty as to the event, both being upheld by scripture. Normal Christian growth should come out of the study of this truth, with a great longing for the salvation of souls. We should not be like that band of godly monks gathered on the banks of the Bosphorus, who named a date and chanted their hymns as they awaited the return of the Lord, when he did not come it brought disrepute on the truth, they lost their faith, and came into bondage of unbelief.

This truth should make us free, not bring us into bondage, but we must take the whole truth as Jesus Christ gave it to us and not set times and dates. Because we can set no time we must follow Jesus Christ's instruction to watch, "in such an hour as ye think not" he will come.

Wherever you may go you will find a small group of believers whose spiritual needs are met in this truth. Watching night and day, while we wait, is the best preparation for his coming, it is to be sudden, without warning as the thief in the night. Added to our watching should be the patient waiting, not sitting idly by as we wait, but being up and about our Father's business. Today men are refusing to watch and wait for his return. This they are free to do in this day of grace, but their comes a day of the wrath of the Lamb which shall be so terrible that men will cry for the rocks and hills to fall upon them to hide them from this wrath.

If we are redeemed we must love the one who redeemed us; if we love him we must long for his return in glory and power to put away sin out of the world.

Many gifts are given the church in this age, among them is the coming of the Lord. God reckons time in ages, each age must have an end; the end of this age is when the Lord shall come to his own who await his coming. The church all through the centuries has looked for his return; it was not impossible that he should have come in any generation had the church fulfilled his will and finished his work he gave her to do. "Let our prayer ever be, Even so, come, Lord Jesus."

The wise husbandman sows seed in fertile soil. The "Pastor's Instruction Class" for boys and girls is this sowing. The hearts of children is the virgin soil, send them that they may receive the good seed and the lord of the harvest will take care of the harvest. This class meets in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church on Wednesday at 3:15 p. m.

Dr. J. R. Pratt leads "The People's Bible class" on Thursday at 7:45 p. m. in the church auditorium. Come, bring your Bible and enjoy a feast of good things.

BALLINGER-LYANS WEDDING

G. Lyans, of La Canada. The Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the First Presbyterian church of Glendale officiated. The decorations were pink and white with a profusion of orange blossoms, and beautifully massed groups of green foliage and flowers of many kinds.

The bride was attended by Miss Alma Turner, the bridesmaid, and the bridegroom by his groomsmen, Mr. Harry Madden. Miss Dorothy Lee played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." Miss Irene Jones sang several appropriate solos. Russell Newton, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. James Newton, acted as page, and little Jean Lyans was flower girl.

Every child attending "The Prince and the Pauper" Friday, March 24, will be presented with free candy. Prizes of $1 and of 75c are offered by the Garden Society to the two children selling the greatest amount of tickets. Thus far, Guy Bennett of the Third Street school leads the way. STUDY YOURSELF

Have you ever held up before your character, the mirror of honesty? Suppose you try it for never poet gave wiser advice than that contained in: "Know, then thyself—presume not God to scan. The proper study of mankind is man."

What you know of yourself ought to give you vast toleration for others. It ought to make it possible for you to measure life with sanity and to help you to work out your own relation to it.

It is very easy to build up a little ideal of what you would like to be, or to dream dreams of what you are going to do and to imagine that in planning you have creditably accomplished. It is easy to explain all your needs on the grounds of higher motives than you ever had.

Pettiness may masquerade as sensitivity, bitterness as honesty, malice as high-minded desire to save people from disillusionment. Don't hedge—don't quibble. Look your self squarely and honestly in the face. Perhaps it will hurt when you see a bit of shifty dishonesty, a tendency to lie weakly out of scrapes, a narrow-minded attitude toward your neighbors and a jealous passion of rage for the love you want and don't get.

There is no luck in the world except that which comes from making friends with circumstances. There is no fortune except that of high desert. Take stock of your abilities and deservings. They are your assets. If you know your material you can work it to advantage in any field of endeavor. Well, then, learn the human material that is yourself, and so make the honest, strongest MOST of it.—Exchange.

Mrs. C. E. Lauer, 1427 Burchett street, has returned from a delightful visit of ten days, where she was the guest of Dr. Lauer's parents.

Mrs. Elizabeth Goldthwaite and Miss Ellen Goldthwaite, 338 Orange street, spent the week end with Mrs. Goldthwaite's sister at Redondo Beach.

Donald Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin, is quite ill. He has had to leave school temporarily. It is thought that he is growing too rapidly.

Mrs. Ellen Galey, 1440 Salem street, who has been quite seriously ill for some time, is beginning to recover, to the great pleasure of her many friends.

Mrs. S. W. Lyman of 1359 30th Place, Los Angeles, a former resident of Glendale, who has been quite ill at her home, is reported as improving slowly.

Mrs. I. J. Phillips of West Fifth street, who has been ill the past two weeks, has recovered sufficiently to be taken to Long Beach to the home of her sister, Mrs. Miller, to recuperate.

Mrs. Isabel Jordan of 918 W. Fifth street is entertaining as a house guest Mrs. Holbrook, who recently arrived in Los Angeles from the East. Mrs. Holbrook will remain here for some time.

Judge Whomes, city recorder, was one of the 500 people who sought to entice the unwary halibut, kingfish and herring to swallow bait and get hauled ashore at Santa Monica pier, Sunday. The halibut and kingfish were running in fine shape and large numbers of herring had come in shore. The judge was fortunate enough to catch several fine halibut and some of the other fish—in all about a dozen.

Miss Lettie Warren of Seattle, Washington, and nephew Donald Warren of Columbia City, Indiana, who are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Weller of Dayton Court, were most delightfully entertained at Griffith Park Saturday afternoon with a sauer kraut and wienet dinner. Others who enjoyed this Dutch dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Weller and their house guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Griffin and son Jim of Tropic, Misses Emma Lee, Melba and Lena Weller.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Middleworth of 120 W. 5th street, who had been looking forward with pleasure to a visit from Mr. Middleworth's aunt, Mrs. Ella J. Dennis, who was expected here next week from Hudson Falls, N. Y., were saddened by the news of her death, which occurred after a short illness of pneumonia. Mrs. Dennis was a woman of considerable prominence in her native state, being endowed with much of this world's goods and renowned for her Christian charity. She is survived by her brother, Warren H. Middleworth, of Hudson Falls, N. Y., two nephews, Wilber R. Middleworth of Glendale and Henry Middleworth of Brooklyn.

TROPICO

Widespread sympathy among a large circle of friends attended the announcement of the passing of Mrs. Susan Wallace, which occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. T. Meagher, 319 W. Tenth street, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Wallace had been an invalid the past two years, in fact was confined to her chair. One of the pleasures of this dear patient shut-in was to be wheeled about in her chair enjoying sunshine, beautiful flowers and all smiling nature.

Another daughter, Mrs. Hattie Benner, survives this dear Christian woman. Mrs. Wallace was a native of Canada and came to Tropic with her daughters, Mrs. Meagher and Mrs. Benner, four years ago.

W. J. Birney of 515 North Central avenue will leave shortly for a few weeks' visit to his former home in Pittsburg, Pa., and other eastern cities.

Mrs. Joseph H. Webster of Holtville, formerly of West Park avenue, Tropic, was a welcome visitor here today. Mrs. Webster has been in attendance at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. S. W. Lyman of Los Angeles, and also to comfort her bereaved sister, Mrs. Edna Thorne, whose seven-year-old daughter Katherine May passed away, at the Los Angeles home, last week, interment having been in Forest Lawn cemetery beside her father, the late Irving Thorne. Mrs. Webster contemplates returning to her home in Imperial Valley Wednesday.

Mrs. Hattie C. Boring of Blanche avenue has sufficiently recovered from her recent illness as to be able to resume some of her social duties.

The usual parliamentary drill will precede the regular monthly meeting of the Tropic Parent-Teacher association, which will be held in the Cerritos street school Thursday afternoon, 2:30. The drill will be conducted in one of the lower grade rooms at 2:00 o'clock. The teachers of the Cerritos school are arranging a "home made candy" sale, and as these instructors are good "candy makers" all who purchase of these confections will receive full value.

Tropico Thursday club will be well represented in Hollywood at the District Federation of Woman's clubs, which convenes there this week, by Mrs. Charles A. Barker, club president; Dr. Jessie A. Russell, Mrs. C. H. Woolsey and Mrs. Henry F. Goodwin, delegates and alternates. Other club members who are interested in matters pertaining to clubdom will also attend sessions of the convention.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gould of Neponset, Illinois, are visiting in Tropic, alternating their visits at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Logan, Mrs. Mary West and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Stephenson.

Dr. Lenora K. Bates of Los Angeles, who is spending a few weeks at Glenn Ranch, in the mountains above Redlands, has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Carmack on North Central avenue and at the home of Mrs. Myra C. K. Shuey in Tropic, the past few days.

Lost—An Heirloom
Miss Cora Hickman of West Park avenue lost a handsome cameo pin, which was an heirloom and prized very highly. The pin was lost on either the Pacific Electric car or the Huntington Park car, Monday evening as Miss Hickman was returning from a banquet given by the Eastern Star chapter in that city. Any one finding this cameo, which has a very old fashioned setting, will please communicate with Miss Hickman.

Mrs. Sladd of Pasadena entertained a large party of her friends at dinner, at La Ramada.

Mr. Charles Richards, who is a banker of Chester, Nebraska, also entertained a number of Los Angeles people at La Ramada, prior to returning home to his native state. Preparations are being made for a large party for Thursday night. The excellent floor of the Chapter L. P. E. O., will hold an afternoon meeting Wednesday, March 22, at 2:30, at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, 404 W. Third street.

P. T. A. FEDERATION

The Federation of Parent-Teacher associations met Monday afternoon in the Intermediate school. The usual routine business was transacted. It was reported that various reading circles were being established throughout the city in connection with the reading courses furnished by the Department of Education. The interesting feature of the day was the discussion on the subject of military training in grammar and intermediate schools. This evoked considerable difference of opinion. The vote resulted in the support of a resolution not to indorse such teaching.

CONGREGATIONALISM AND CREEDS

Dr. E. H. Willisford is the recipient of many compliments and congratulations for the scholarly, able and interesting sermon which he delivered at the Congregational church Sunday evening. The sermon topic was "How Does Congregationalism in Its Preaching and Practice Differ from Other Churches?" The speaker's attitude toward the other churches was of the utmost kindness. The text was taken from 1 Peter 3-15, "Being ready always to give answer to every man that asketh you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet with meekness and fear."

The speaker said in part: "The Congregational church believes that the Bible contains the Word of God and is its own best commentator and interpreter. That no creed made by ecclesiastical council or prelate is essential to a correct belief in the teachings of scripture."

"A spiritual and not a mechanical interpretation of scripture is all important. Paul (2 Cor. 3-6) said, 'the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.'"

"Congregationalists prefer to take their stand upon the plain, simple teaching of the scriptures in regard to all matters of doctrine and polity."

Dr. Willisford quoted a writer as saying, "The basic principle of Congregationalism is the supreme leadership of Christ and the priesthood of all believers; the autonomy of the local church; and the fellowship both of Christian brethren within the church and of the churches one with another. Doctrinally, Congregationalism stands for orthodoxy with liberty. It holds to no one man-made creed as of perpetual authority."

The preacher declared that the people needed God not the devil; heaven not hell; salvation, not eternal damnation; that the coming of Christ for the first time into a man's life was the all important thing; that great catastrophes were not the evidence of the wrath of God—"God is Love."

The world is growing better. One hundred years ago only one Protestant church member in 14 of our population; now one in 4; 100 years ago only 1 student in 100 a church member, now 1 in every 2.

"More important to practice the teachings of the 12th, 13th, 14th and 15th chapters of the book of Romans than to speculate and theorize about the 9th, 10th and 11th chapters of the same epistle."

"Better to know the teaching of 1 Cor. 13 than to waste time on a piece of prophecy of doubtful interpretation. God requires that man shall do justly, love mercy and walk humbly with Him (Micah 6-8)."

"Deeds not dogma." "Christ not creeds."

Next Sunday evening Dr. Willisford will deliver his well known chautauqua lecture-sermon, "Helping the Other Fellow." A colored sextet from Los Angeles will furnish the musical service.

The music Sunday evening by the Nash Orchestra and the vocal numbers by Mrs. Frank N. Arnold and Mrs. Greely Kolts with Mrs. John R. Barrows at the piano and Miss Eleanor Barrows with the cello was a very helpful and interesting part of the evening service. The attendance was large, filling the side rooms as well as the main auditorium.

In justice to the health of your family, as well as your own stomach's sake, the greatest of care should be used in the selection of the food you eat.

This store serves as purchasing agent for many of the families in this vicinity who want the highest quality food-values obtainable.

Every article that this store sells is purchased with the same care as if it were bought for my own household, and in the selection of foodstuffs the policy of this store is to make QUALITY the first consideration and PRICE second

Take potatoes, for instance. The quality of potatoes has been very poor the past year, and yet by searching the market and paying a premium price we have furnished our patrons with excellent "spuds". So it is with other grocery items.

We deal in only FIRST QUALITY, PURE FOODS at the LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICE, carefully fill all orders and make prompt deliveries.

A CLEAR CONSCIENCE

There once was an Irishman, who went into a restaurant on Friday in Lent and seating himself at a table said to the waiter, "Bring me a whale!"

The waiter told him that they were just out of whales.

"Thin bring me a shark!" The waiter replied that they were not serving sharks today.

"Thin bring me a jelly-fish!"

The waiter responded that jelly-fish was not on the bill of fare.

"Thin bring me a good, big beef-steak; for the saints in heaven know I've tried hard enough to get fish!"—The People's Home Journal.

Broad: By the way, old man, do you remember borrowing $10 from me six months ago?

Short: Yes.

Broad: But you said you only wanted it for a short time.

Short: And I told the truth. I didn't keep it twenty minutes.—New York Sun.

"Yes, sir," said the trust magnate, proudly, "I am the architect of my own fortune."

"Well," rejoined the friendly critic, "all I've got to say is that it's a lucky thing for you that there were no building inspectors around when you were constructing it."—Brooklyn Eagle.

OVERTAKEN

"And when you eloped with the girl," asked a friend, "did her father follow you?"

"Did he?" said the young man.

"Rather! He's living with us yet!"—London Opinion.

KEEPING PEOPLE WELL

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA STARTS NEW PROFESSION FOR WOMEN

Keeping people well is a new profession for women. The University of California is going to help women train themselves for success in this new occupation by giving courses in the next Summer Session at Berkeley from June 26 to August 5, of special interest to women who want to help keep people well by serving as visiting nurses in school departments, as neighborhood visitors who show young mothers how to keep their babies fat, happy, and healthy, as professional nurses, as social service workers who follow up hospital cases in order to aid families to remove the causes of illness and poverty, as teachers of hygiene and physical education, or who want to engage in some of the manifold other work by which extraordinary results are being obtained in cutting down the death rate, lengthening the average of life, and waging successful warfare against poverty and disease.

Six well-known California experts have accepted an invitation to cooperate in this work by giving five lectures each in the Summer Session on various phases of "The Social Aspects of Public Health." George L. Bell, Secretary of the California State Immigration and Housing Commission, will lecture on "Housing;" Dr. Louise Morrow on "Medical Social Service;" Dr. Allan F. Gillihan, President of the Berkeley Board of Health, on "Welfare Work in Factory and Shop;" Miss Edith L. N. Tate, Director of the Bureau of Tuberculosis of the California State Board of Health, on "Tuberculosis;" Dr. Ernest B. Hoag on "Medical Inspection of Schools;" and Miss Anna C. Jamme, director of the Bureau of Registration of Nurses of the California State Board of Health, on "The Health Visitor."

Dr. Adelaide M. Brown, member of the California State Board of Health, will lecture twice a week throughout the Summer Session on various applications of personal hygiene and public health to the welfare of women and children.

Miss Katherine Felton, Secretary of the Associated Charities of San Francisco, will give a six-weeks' course on "Social Insurance in Relation to Public Health," dealing with the principles of insurance against accident, sickness, unemployment, and old age, with especial reference to insurance as a public health measure.

A "first aid" course, to teach men engaged in industrial pursuits or in school or play-ground work how to handle emergencies, how to bandage, apply splints, transport the injured, or start artificial respiration, will be given by Dr. Charles L. McVey; while a similar course for women, dealing also with emergencies and the home care of the sick, will be given by Dr. Kate Gompertz.

How to prevent the spread of communicable diseases will be taught in a course on "Essentials of Epidemiology" by Professor John N. Force. Miss Dolores E. Bradley will give laboratory instruction in bacteriology, and laboratory and field work in public health problems will be conducted by Professor Force and Miss Ida May Stevens. Opportunity to engage in research in bacteriology, hygiene, and public health will be provided for properly qualified persons, under the direction of Professor Force and Miss Stevens.

If bronze leather runs short there are still other ways of attracting attention to the feet.

In view of the high cost of automobile fuel gas it seems as if the enormous quantities of hot air used in selling machines should be utilized.

FORD WILL MAKE GASOLINE

Three million automobile owners in this country will be delighted to know that Henry Ford is coming to the rescue of the gasoline problem. This assurance comes from Congressman Randall of this district, to whom Mr. Ford sent his personal representative for a conference on this important question.

Some weeks ago Mr. Randall introduced a resolution in Congress proposing government manufacture of gasoline, on the theory that the crude petroleum from which it is made is a natural resource belonging to the people, and not to Rockefeller. He pointed out the fact that an expert of the government had discovered a gasoline distilling process which should cheapen the cost more than 50 per cent.

Congressman Randall soon despaired of prompt government action and appealed direct to Henry Ford for the assistance of his great organization. The response was prompt, and the research laboratories at Detroit are already engaged in experimentation. Mr. Ford declares, "The Solution of the gasoline problem is an urgent matter. If one attempt fails, the quickest way to get a solution will be to commence with another one."

ALASKAN TERMINAL PLANT

A terminal plant to cost $1,000,000 to be constructed along the lines of the Bush terminal of New York is to be established on Oakland's inner harbor by the Alaskan Packers' association, according to a statement by Captain J. F. Mosher, vice president and general manager of the concern.

At this plant will be centralized all the local activities of the association under the new plan. Its entire fleet will be anchored there for overhauling at the end of each fishing season and will be outfitted with supplies and stores of the Alaska fisheries. The warehouses which are to form a part of the new plant will handle the major portion of the association's products.

It is estimated by the officials of the association that the present payroll of $20,000 a month to local employees will be increased to $100,000 a month as soon as the new centralization plant is in full operation. So confident are the officials that the present agitation for a free channel will result in changes being authorized by the federal government that contracts are to be let at once for extensive dredging operations which are to be the first step in the big terminal operations. A channel 500 feet wide, 1700 feet long and 25 feet deep is to be dredged.

THE body design of this new Overland carries out the latest streamline design. The equipment compares with that of cars very much higher in price. At the same time it is a low priced car that costs very little to run. It is equipped with the Autolite two-unit starting and lighting system. Its rear springs are the famous cantilever type, probably the easiest riding springs ever designed. It has four-inch tires all around; non-skids on rear. Demountable rims are used and one extra rim is included. There is a magnetic speedometer and a full set of tools. It is not only a thoroughly high grade car, but carries with it a completeness of equipment unheard of in cars of this price.

COULDN'T HELP IT

"I heard Signor Bluff sing 'Hamlet' last night."
"Ah! Did you? Now tell me—do you think Hamlet was mad?"
"He must have been. There wasn't $100 in the house."—Musical Courier.

What's become of the father who used to hold up the richest man in town as a model for his boys?

It seems to be difficult for farmers to fit up their dairy barns with sanitary equipment, as it takes all their money to build garages.

Warning to The Public!

Your home dairymen sell the residents of Glendale, Tropic and North Glendale BETTER, FRESHER and CLEANER Milk and Cream than does any outside firm.

Local dairies are under rigid inspection and the public is invited to visit any of them at any time—where outside concerns secure their milk from many small producers scattered within a 150 miles of Los Angeles. While this milk may be bottled in a sanitary plant, it is not necessarily produced under sanitary conditions.

Fresh raw milk, is delivered by local dairies twice daily, within two hours of milking at 10c a quart, while a large creamery which is soliciting business on pasteurized milk at 8c a quart, delivers once a day—milk that is from 24 to 36 hours old. If this milk were not pasteurized, it would not be fit for human consumption when delivered at your home. Special raw milk, similar to the milk local dairies deliver to their patrons, costs 12c per quart when secured from city dairies.

Don't be misled by smooth-talking solicitors. Have your local milk tested in comparison with that of outside dairies by your physician. Abide by his findings.

By giving your local dairyman a square deal you will eliminate the danger of San Fernando Valley being controlled by the alleged Milk Trust which has forced the price of fresh, raw milk to 12c per quart in Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena.

Protect the health of your family and keep the price of fresh, raw milk at no more than 10c per quart in Glendale, Tropic and Casa Verdugo, by patronizing any of the following dairymen, who deliver fresh milk every morning and evening:—
